AN EXPERIMENT IN ROAD BUILDING On Tuesday last, the Levy Court of New Castle County directed the Highway Commissioner to prepare plans and esti-mates of the cost of building an improved road from Mt. Pleasant to Summit Bridge. Outside the 27th, is improving. local interest attaching to this road from the fact that marks the division between St. Georges and Pencader Hundred, one half being in each hundred, this road is planned to be a gravel or sand and clay road. In other words, instead of freighting and haul-ing crushed stone to the place, it proposed to utilize the material at hand. There is no reason why this experiment should not have been tried before. The U.S. Bureau of Good Roads has been urging such roads for years, and has built many experimental miles in different places through-out the country. This kind of a road can be built for a very much less price per mile, and consequently more miles can be built for the same amount of money.

For communities like that of ours, this dirt road is probably better suited than a stone road. The farmers, who are the main users of country roads do not, as a rule, use shoes on their as a rule, use shoes on their horses. Hard stone roads are not suitable for unshod horses, breaking their hoofs and in time crippling them. The locality selected is a very favorable one. The road there is wide, rather high and well drained. It is now in fair condition, due to is now in fair condition, due to the placing of a lot of stone thereon several years ago when the prisoners at the County Jail were compelled to break stone. These stones, however, have never settled and made a good drive way because they were just dumped in the middle of the road without rolling or other preparation. Still, they have made a ridge, which has assisted in keeping the road well drained. The test will be watched with a great amount of interest, not only by the people of this section but by all users of the public roads all over the State. If it is found possible and expedient to use the dirt road, it will be but a short time before the people of Dela-

JOSIAH WHITESELL DISAPPEARS

Josiah Whitesell, aged 18 years, sndenly disappeared from the home of his widowed mother, Mrs. Emma Whitesell, at 628 East Eleventh street, Wilmington, Del., on Monday, Schember 11th, 1905, since which time nothing has been learned of his whereabouts. His mother grieves constantly about him and spends many sleepless nights praying for his return, as she loves her son as only a mother can. Every effort is being made to locate the missing young man, and his mother will be grateful to any one who will aid her in securing his return.

THE GLOBE CLOTHING STORE

THE people are wondering and often ask us how we are able to sell our goods at such a low figure. Our answer to this question is, that our entire stock must be sold out by January 1st, regardless of prices. Our goods are bought regularly, and not purchased as seconds or old stock. The people of this community have bought the C. N. Meltsner & Bro's Clothing of us for the past four years, and they know the quality of this firms goods. Label on each garment. You should not permit others to tell you that our goods are not of the first quality, come in and see for yourself, and we assure you of one thing---you will go away pleased. If anything is purched in this store which is not satisfactory, your money will be refunded without argument.

The Orchestra furnished music, and the stage had been beautifully trimmed, by a ittee of ladies, with potted plants beautiful palms, chrysanthemums and a lovely bouquet of roses which were afterward presented to Dr. Lightbourne. The hall was well filled and all enjoyed the lecture. Of the lecture itself, we need not speak, as all who know Dr. Light-bourne, know it was of the first order. All hope to hear him again soon.

HALLOWE'EN CELEBRATED

Parties in and Near Town Largely

THE LITTLE FOLKS ENTERTAINED Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Hukill gave a "Hallowe'en Party" on Tuesday evening for their two younger sons John and Tim. The hours were from 6 to 9, but the parents had hard work to get their children to leave the pleasant scene at 9.30. The invitations read "please come masked," and each boy and girl did their best to the present the process of the process dress so that no one would know them, and some were especially good. Little Mildred Vaughan as a bride looked very sweet and Charles Ritchie made a very pretty girl, in the flower girl costume. Helen Barnard made her bells tingle "where ever she goes." Games were played and the minutes flew all too quickly to suit the little folks. Ice cream, cakes, fruits, nuts and candies were served, and one boy, after being helped to his third piece of cake said "Oh, it is so good!" The tables were especially pretty with silver and glass, greens and and colored candles and, as one little boy told his mother "such lovely paper napkins." In the center of the table was a very large pumpkin, filled with Hallowe'en favors, which were given to the children.

PRANKS AND GAMES WERE PLAYED

PRANKS AND GAMES WERE PLAYED

A merry party met on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs Kate Naudain, on Main street, to celebrate All Hallowe'en, and many merry pranks were played, "potato race," "proposal games," and any games that fun-loving young people could think of. In cutting the cake for prizes, one of Middletown's most charming young momen found, the ring, which is a sure ("sign of a wedding in the near future (but at the present time, we are unable to say whose wedding.) A young M. D. found the thimble, a sign of bachelorhood, but sometimes, even signs go contrary. Another young man found the penny, a sign of riches.

Ham and cheese sandwiches, ice cream, cakes, nuts, cider and coffee were served. Pumpkins were grouped in profusion around the dining-room.

Among the guests were; Mr. and Mrs. George Lindsey Cochran, Mr. and Mrs. Corsey W. Lawis Mrs. G. W. Naddsin Mrs. Dorsey W. Lawis Mrs. G. W. Naddsin Mrs.

HALLOWE'EN GUESTS

A pleasant Hallowe'en party was given on Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob S. Cochrann, near town, by Misses Mary Pleasanton and Martha Cochran. Most of the guests were masked, some were very laughable, one being a clown. One was an officer in uniform.

Most of the evening was spent in danc-ing, Miss Lena Pleasanton presiding at the piano.

MISS ANDERSON ENTERTAINED

A number of young people spent merry evening with Miss Bessie Somers Anderson last Saturday evening at her pleasant home on West Main street. The party was given in honor of Miss Adelaide Jefferson Foard, who e marriage to Mr. William Sterling Evans, of Elkton, Md., will take place on Thursday evening, November 9th. Candy pulling and corn popping afforded much amusement to the guests. Ham sandwiches, cheese sandwiches, coffee, and candies were served.

It lephone, a lawyer and a most obliging official of the courts of Cecil County, Maryland. This was an invincible quartette and overcame all obstacles. The story runneth thus: Miss Helena C. Blome, one of Middletown's most charming maidens and Mr. B. F. Lamborn had pilpited their throth and made arrangements for the wedding to take place at an early hour on Thursday morning. Father Crowley, rector of St. Francis Xavier Church was to perform the ceremony and all looked plain sailing until the legal ghost, a state license issued by the Maryland courts bobbed up and cast a seeming bulwark between the lovers and matrimony. This discovery was made at 10.30 P. M., Wednesday night, and Elkton seventeen miles away. Then there was hustling for cover and a license. The bride-groom-to-be Mrs. B. F. Lamborn was in the slough of despondancy until he met his friend Capt. Alfred Collins of the Diamond State Telephone Co. To him he told his tale of troubles and asked for a solution. So, a reluctant invitation was telebhoned to "Bill" the unknown, and Mrs. Wrenn growled about it the rest of the day. Little sympathy she got from Winnifred Dorrington, her husband's pretty niece from Virginia, who was spending the winter with them. He had seen her three times in three days, and the next morning they were to have a ride; but he might do better than that. He must, in fact, for the time was short. It was then Janu ary 10, and on the thirtieth he mus appear in court in Cheyenne. It was a federal case of importance, and he had given his word to be there.

The ride was a success, though without incident. Somewhere he had found a presentable ex-cow pony, on which he was much at home. Friday evening he went with the Wrenns to the opera Saturday evening they all dined together at the Juilliards. Sunday she took h to church, his first service in months The next morning when he rode up with We, therefore, command yon, as you were herefore commanded, that you summon Anna May Harrington, that she be and appear before the Judges of our said Court at the next term thereof to be held at Wilmington, on Monday, the Twenty-seventh day of November next to answer the allowerious of the said petheir horses, looking forward to a spirited she was suffering from a cold and could not see even him.
